Question no 11-

The Promised Messiah ^(AS) writes, in his book ‘Kashti-e Nooh’: ‘ . . After the Holy Qur’an, the greatest blessing the Muslims have received is the Sunnah.’ No doubt, the Holy Qur’an is the revealed word of God and contains broad principles of guidance for mankind. The Sunnah, on the other hand, is the practical example of the Holy Prophet^(SAW) that demonstrates the Qur’anic principles. Hence the Holy Prophet^(SAW) transformed into action the word of Allah by his Sunnah and thus it provides a simple solution of complex problems. The Hadith is the spoken word of the Holy Prophet^(SAW) and serves as a supporting witness for Sunnah. The Hadith, however, is important as it is a great historical, literary and spiritual treasure. In conclusion, the Holy Qur'an is the revealed word of Allah, while the Sunnah is the practical example of the Holy Prophet^(SAW) and the Hadith, a supporting witness for the Sunnah.
